

IN THE CLAIMS

1. (currently amended) A system-readable and system-writeable recording medium wherein content is recorded and from which content is reproduced, having said recording medium comprising:

a program area for recording in which a plurality of content programs is recorded; ~~and the plurality of programs being managed into a plurality of groups, said recording medium further comprising:~~ a management area for recording in which management information is recorded, that the management information includes:

first management information for managing storage of a plurality of program names whereby a given one of the plurality of program names corresponds to a particular one of the plurality of content programs recorded in the program area, and second management information using first and second special codes for managing associations between the a plurality of content programs groups and the plurality of content programs whereby a given one of and the plurality of content program groups whereby is associated with specific ones of the plurality of content programs are associated with and with a given particular one of the a plurality of groups names, and including a the first special code for partitioning program numbers corresponding to the content programs associated with the given a respective one of the plurality of content program groups and a the group name associated with the given that group, and a the second special code for partitioning the program numbers and group name associated with the given group and the program numbers and group name associated with another adjacent ones of the plurality of content program groups,

~~wherein a respective one of at least a portion of the second management information being changeable so that the associations between the plurality of content programs and the plurality of content program groups is erased, moved or divided by may be edited at least one of the program numbers and the group name associated with that group.~~

2. - 33. (cancelled)

34. (new) A recording medium according to claim 1, wherein the content includes audio data.

35. (new) A recording medium according to claim 1, wherein the program numbers that correspond to the content programs associated with a particular one of the plurality of content program groups includes a range of program numbers, and the second management information includes a third special code for partitioning a first one and a last one of the range of program numbers.